DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 33 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. With regard to claim 33, the phrase "the resulting clean signal" lacks antecedent basis. With regard to claim 34, the phrase "said clean signal" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 31, 33, 34, and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Albrecht et al. Albrecht et al. teach a system for processing ECG signals to extract a desired signal portion from a signal containing a desired portion and noise that includes minimizing the value of an error metric (Figure 5; column 4, line 30 - column 8, line 55; column 13, line 65 - column 17, line 27).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 35 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Albrecht, as applied to claim 32 and 34 above. Albrecht et al. teach that their system can be used to process other types of physiologic signals (column 30). Without a showing of unexpected results or criticality, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to measure physiological concentrations and heart rate, as set forth in the claims, since Albrecht et al. teach that their system can be modified to process other physiological signals.

Double Patenting

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 31 - 37 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims of U.S. Patent No. 6,067,462 (cited by Applicant). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because with regard to claims 31 and 32, one in possession of the method of claim 13 of the patent would necessarily be in possession of the claims of the instant application. Further, with regard to claims 33 - 37, although claims 1 - 6 of the patent do not recite limitations regarding the approximate proportionality between  $S_1$  and  $S_2$  and between  $N_1$  and  $N_2$ , it is inherent that this relationship must be satisfied for the computations of  $e$  and  $A_1$  to be mathematically valid. As, such one in possession of the method of claims 1 - 6 would necessarily be in possession of the invention of claims 33 - 37.
